15TH YEAR. NO. 177.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, JAN. 6, 1900.

TWO CENTS

THREATS IN GERMANY

Might Join Russian-Franco Coalition.

NO REPLY FROM ENGLAND.

Foreign Office Hoped Would Be Shown No Intention to Ride Rough-Shod Over Germany — Finding of Contraband Would Effect Case.

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—The seizure of the Bundesrath remains the dominant topic of the German press. Influential papers like the Berliner Tageblatt, Cologne Volks Zeitung, Berliner Neueste Nachrichten, Hamburger Correspondenz and the semi-official Berliner Post strongly hint at the possibility of Germany's forming an anti-British coalition with Russia and France.

The anti-British feeling is clearly growing. A series of anti-British demonstrations in the various cities is being organized by the pan-Germanic league.

A prominent official of the German foreign office, who was interviewed, said that Great Britain had not yet answered Germany's request for an explanation of the seizure, but that the reply was expected in a few days. The foreign office, according to this official, has not yet concluded that Great Britain is trying to ride rough-shod over Germany.

The correspondent asked what position Germany takes regarding England's right to search German ships on the high seas. The official answered that nothing could be divulged at this stage of the negotiations, but he pointed out that the Bundesrath was sailing for a Portuguese port. On being asked what Germany would do should it turn out that the Bundesrath was carrying contraband, he gave a non-committal reply, but conveyed the impression that such a discovery would seriously damage Germany's case.

Referring to the rumor that the Swiss commission had decided to award damages to Great Britain in the Delagoa bay arbitration, the foreign office official intimated that such a decision might not mean that England would secure Delagoa bay, inasmuch as France might advance to Portugal the money to pay the award, and thus England might be shut off with no choice but to accept the situation.

The Honover Courier, confirming the earlier reports regarding the shipment of arms and ammunition from Germany, asserts that German rifles have been sent to the Transvaal since the outbreak of the war.

The Berliner Tageblatt has a dispatch from Papenburg, Hanover, the home of Captain Muhlmann of the German bark Hans Wagner of Hamburg, which was seized by the British at Delagoa bay on Dec. 21, saying that the bark had powder and dynamite in her cargo.

The central committee of the German Red Cross society published a statement that the second expedition for the Transvaal was not on the Bundesrath, but is on the Herzog, which should have arrived at Lourenzo Marques on Jan. 2.

Prominent members of the Colonial society disclaim having authorized the calls printed in The Colonial Zeitung for indignation meetings to protest against Great Britain's course. The Berlin and Charlottenburg branches refused to participate in the movement.

AN APPEAL TO AMERICA.

English Ladies Ask For Help For a Cape Town Hospital.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Duchess of Marlborough, the Countess of Essex, Lady Georgian Curzon, Mme. von Andree and the leading members of the Imperial Yeomanry hospital fund appeal to the people of the United States and Canada in behalf of their efforts to equip and maintain a hospital with a base at Cape Town. The Duchess of Marlborough said in part:

"The Duke of Marlborough is certainly going to South Africa at the earliest possible opportunity, though his appointment is not yet announced and his exact capacity is not decided. We are all naturally much interested in the war, and especially in the success of the Imperial Yeomanry."

"The hospital scheme has the sanction of Lord Lansdowne and Lord Wantage. We have already secured £10,000, and need £30,000 to provide 150 beds for the duration of the war. It has occurred to the ladies of the committee that we may properly count on the assistance of the American and Canadian people."

THE BRITISH LOST HEAVILY.

Baden-Powell Reported Failure of a Sortie From Mafeking.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The war office received, through General Forester-Walker, at Cape Town, a dispatch from Colonel Baden-Powell, dated Mafeking, Dec. 26, describing the failure of an attack on works of the enemy. He said the British withdrew after six of their officers and a number of men had been hit. He then said:

"I regret to report the following casualties:

"Killed—Captain R. J. Vernon, Captain H. C. Sanford, Lieutenant H. C. Ratton, 18 non-commissioned officers and troopers.

"Wounded—Captain Charles Fitz-clarence, 23 non-commissioned officers and troopers.

"Prisoners—Three troopers."

General Forester-Walker pointed out that while the dispatch gave all the names, it failed to show that six officers were hit.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—A special dispatch from Rensberg said Major Harvey of the Tenth Hussars was killed and Major Alexander wounded while the Hussars were pursuing the retreating Boers after the attack on the British left Jan. 4, near Colesberg.

FOR BOER RED CROSS SERVICE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Recruiting for Boer Red Cross service goes on daily in New York. Gustav Simon said that about 1,000 men and women, the majority of them men, had gone from New York recently to South Africa. A number came from other states.

BRUTE SHOT TO DEATH.

Woman's Assailant Tied to a Tree and Killed by Mob—Identified by Victim.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 6.—W. W. Watt, who was from Lynchburg, and had been in this city several weeks, went to the house of T. M. Simpson, a shipioneer, and in his absence criminally assaulted Mrs. Simpson. She had previously given the man something to eat, and he came ostensibly to thank her for her kindness. After the assault Watt took a train for Richmond, but a special local officer jumped the train as it was moving out, handcuffed the man and brought him back on the next train.

Watt was locked up. A mob of armed masked men came to the station, disarmed the sergeant and at the point of revolvers made him unlock the cell where the wretch was crouching, pleading for his life. The prisoner was taken out to a strip of woods on the edge of the city, about three-quarters of a mile from the stationhouse, tied by the hands to a tree and shot to death. Probably as many as 40 bullets entered the body.

Watt was identified by the woman twice.

Suicide's Frozen Body Found.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Jan. 6.—Kneeling against a tree, in an attitude of prayer, the frozen body of Lewis E. Wirts, a prominent engineer on the Huntingdon and Broadtop railroad, was found near his home with a bullet hole in the right temple. A revolver, with one cartridge exploded, was found lying at his side. Domestic trouble, it was said, was the cause of suicide. He left a widow and eight children.

Urged Lenz Claim Be Pressed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—T. J. Keenan of Pittsburgh, president of the League of American Wheelmen, and Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania had an interview with President McKinley at which they urged him to press the claim against the Turkish government made by the relatives of Frank Lenzen, the American bicyclist, who was murdered near Erzerum, in Armenia, in 1894.

QUAY DON'T GET SEAT

Majority of Senate Committee Against Him.

BURROWS TO PREPARE REPORT.

He Was the Only Republican Who Voted Against the Resolution to Admit the Beaver Man—Hoar to Write a Minority Report on the Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The senate committee on privileges and elections decided by a vote of 4 to 3 to make an adverse report upon the resolution to seat Senator Quay. The resolution was as follows:

Resolved, That Matthew S. Quay be admitted as a senator from the state of Pennsylvania in accordance with his appointment made on April 29, 1899, by the governor of said state.

The members of the committee voting for the resolution were Senators Chandler, Hoar and McComas, and those opposing, Senators Burrows, Caffery, Pettus and Harris. Senators Turley and Pritchard were paired, the former for and the latter against the resolution.

No definite time was set for the presentation of the committee's report to the senate. The minority will also present a report, and the understanding is that the minority shall be notified by the majority when it is ready to put its report. Senator Burrows, the only Republican on the committee who voted against the resolution, will prepare the report of the majority and Senator Hoar that of the minority.

ROBERTS NOT A CITIZEN.

Carlisle's Opinion—Defendant Said There Was No Direct Testimony of Polygamous Relations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The Roberts investigating committee continued its session. Miss Roberts, daughter of the Utah member-elect, sat near him. Chairman Tayler of Ohio stated that he had received from ex Secretary John G. Carlisle a letter giving his views on the case. He said in part:

"The record of Roberts' application and admission to citizenship does not comply with the law, as I understand it, and I do not think he would be allowed to vote in any state upon a certificate based upon that record.

"He is at this very moment a polygamist, not having at any time abandoned or renounced the relation assumed by the plural marriages and cohabitation with the alleged wives is not at all necessary. The question, therefore, is whether the committee will decide on the question of final right that an undoubted polygamist who justifies the doctrine and practices of polygamy shall be allowed to hold a seat in the house."

In the argument which Roberts read in his own behalf, he declared he possessed all the constitutional requirements. He was questioning the evidence of some of the witnesses, when Chairman Tayler objected, but DeArmond and Littlefield favored letting him go on, and he continued.

"It has not even been established," he said at one point, "that B. H. Roberts was ever married to Margaret C. Shipp Roberts."

"How do you account for your picture being found in her house?" inquired Chairman Tayler.

"I don't know how to account for it," answered Roberts.

As to the testimony that he had attended the funeral of a child of Celia Dibble Roberts, that was, Mr. Roberts said, not remarkable. There was nothing extraordinary in his attending a funeral, and the inferences drawn could not be viewed as proof. As to any direct marital relations with Celia Dibble Roberts, he said there was no direct testimony.

VALUE OF OPEN DOOR CONCERT.

Secretary Wilson Pointed Out Its Great Advantage to America.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Secretary Wilson in an interview emphasized the great commercial significance of the "open door" concert of the powers respecting China. But for this action the United States would have been shut out from trade advantages in any province which other nations might see fit to take possession of. He further said in part:

"The work of Secretary Hay in this regard supplements and complements the work of our army and navy. A year ago no nation would have listened to a proposition of this kind, but the whole world listens to the United States. Now the 'white man's burden' comes with the islands. Secretary Hay's work brings the reward for lifting the burden. Some idea of the vastness of the interests involved may be gained from the fact that while ten years ago our exports from the Pacific coast to all countries aggregated $26,000,000 and five years ago $42,000,000, the steady increase in Pacific coast exports has raised the aggregate to $13,000,000 a year ago."

SALISBURY TO HURRY.

Promised Speedy Decision In Flour Set-zures—Cargo Warehoused Pending Trial.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Secretary Hay received a cablegram from Ambassador Choate at London, stating that he had an eminently satisfactory interview with Lord Salisbury relative to the seizures of American goods by British warships. Lord Salisbury listened intently to the representations on this subject made by Mr. Choate by direction of the state department and took them under consideration, promising voluntarily to give the matter immediate attention and to return a speedy decision.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 6.—The supreme court ordered that the British steamer Mashona, Captain Johnstone, which left New York on Nov. 3 for Delagoa bay, laden with flour for the Transvaal, and which was captured by the British gunboat Partridge, be delivered to the claimants, upon giving satisfactory surety, and that the portion of the cargo claimed as prize be stored by the authorities. The prize cargo consists of 17,000 bags of flour. The Mashona will proceed to other parts and discharge her unclaimed cargo.

GILMORE PROBABLY FREE.

Otis Cabled American Prisoners Had Been Rescued, but Didn't Send Names.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—General Otis notified the war department of the success of the military operations in Northwest Luzon, the main object of which was the rescue of the American prisoners, which the insurgents took with them in their flight. Although General Otis does not specify Lieutenant Gilmore, U. S. N., by name, the wording of his message is taken to mean that that officer was among the list of rescued prisoners.

General Otis' message was as follows:

MANILA, Jan. 5.—Colonels Hare and Howze just arrived at Vigan, Northwest Luzon, with all American prisoners. Their successful pursuit a remarkable achievement. Generals Schwartzenbach and Wheaton now with separate columns in Cavite province. Affairs in Luzon, north of Manila, greatly improved.

BLAME FOR A HORROR

Report Against Braznell Mine Officials.

SUITS ARE SOON TO BE ENTERED.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 6.—We find from the evidence that the mine foreman of said mine was negligent in failing to see that the mine was in a safe condition before permitting workers to enter it.

"We also believe that the fire boss of said mine was negligent in failing to make a daily verbal report to the mine foreman.

This is the verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of the Braznell mine explosion.

Mr. Field acceded to the request.

The trustees perfected details of a plan which will be put into operation, whereby the trustees expect to secure, during the coming year, a sum sufficient not only to pay off the bonds, but to buy the entire stock of the building.

The "comedy business" of Jack Rutledge, the hero of "On the Stroke of Twelve," the new sensational comedy drama by Joseph LeBrandt, which Whitaker & Lawrence are managing with signal success this season, is one of the hits of the piece. A telegram received today by Manager Norris from George W. Bowers, manager of the New Philadelphia Opera House, says: "On the Stroke of Twelve company played here last night; great show; strong company; fine production. You cannot recommend it too highly."

"The South African Boy Choir gave an entertainment in the courthouse here tonight and were most enthusiastically received. Such possibilities in native African children one who has not heard them could not conceive. It was a lesson in music, history, geography, ethnology and the art of teaching.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, IOWA, Dec. 14.
No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.

MRS. GRACE LAMPERE.

MCLREE'S Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. SATURDAY, JAN. 6.

FOR PRESIDENT--Second Term.
WM. M'KINLEY,
of Ohio.

CONSUL MACRUM.

And now the statement is made quite prominent in the journals of the East that Consul Macrum is the bearer of papers of great and vital importance from Oom Paul to the government of the United States. We await developments.

A MUSICAL CONTEST.

The band contest to be held at Alliance on Washington's birthday in aid of the new public library at that place, will no doubt interest the members of East Liverpool's organization. The bands of this city rank high in musical circles and would make a creditable showing in such a contest.

ABSOLUTE THIEVERY.

Certain officials continue to take care of their friends and poor relations at the expense of the city. Work has been given out, without bids, at prices at least 40 per cent. greater than would have been the case had bids been taken upon it from the various city job offices. This is absolute thievery and simply shows that these officials have been derelict in their duty and exceeded their prerogatives in order to confer favors upon friends and needy relatives.

THE WISE ADVERTISER.

Said one of the best advertisers in the nation, a man who always carried the best of goods and advertised ONLY that which he HAD and would do:

"Say, old man, in the name of common business sense, keep me BEFORE THE PEOPLE. If you can't say anything good about me, say something bad."

The meaning of this astute business man is condensed in the thought of good goods in hand, at bargain prices, and then let the people know the fact by the medium of constant and persistent advertising, day in and day out, in dull as well as in pushing times.

OUR BOYS.

And we should be proud to call them "Our Boys." We have reference to the officers and men doing gallant and heroic service in the Philippines. They face every peril and flinch not under any difficulties. They are heroes to a man. Say, readers of the NEWS REVIEW, if you or yours were but sharing the dangers and the difficulties connected with the march, the camp and the battle field now connected with the service in the Philippines, you would have just cause for pride, and fully as just cause to hate the cowards at home who are deliberately stabbing our gallant fellows in the back and aiding the foes of our government in every possible manner.

WESLEY-MOODY.

Augustine Birrell says in Scribner for December, referring to John Wesley, : "No single figure influenced so many minds, no simple voice touched so many hearts. No other man did such a life's work for England." Wesley was an untiring worker in the cause of God and humanity. WORKERS in God's vineyard are in demand in the minds and hearts of the masses in this great and greatly growing nation. Idlers, seekers after soft places and high salaries, in common with so called "higher critics," cumber God's harvest fields, and are surely earning the contempt and ridicule of the common people, the rank and file, the true bone and sinew of the nation at large; the element upon which, ONLY, can be built, under God's blessing, a safe and sure and stable government, "of the people, by the people and for the people." Pray God that we may have more Wesleys and more Moodys in this land of freedom.

HISTORICAL SERVICE

THE FEATURE AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

Robert Burford Read an Interesting Paper of Reminiscences.

At the M. P. church campmeeting last night the interest was largely reminiscent. Mr. Robert Burford read a carefully prepared paper on the history of the church, dating back to 1854-5 and 6, when the church was organized by the Rev. Edward H. Brindley, now deceased. He traced the lights and shadows of the church's history down from the beginning in Bradshaw's hall to the "White" church, to the present commodious structure, in which it was found that about 1,200 communicants had entered the doors of the church as members, and 300 probationers; and nearly 150 have died. Mr. Burford's paper is a valuable addition to the literature of the church.

Tonight (Saturday night) there will be a consecration service of all the societies of the church. Miss Lucy Moore will read a paper. Next week the chorus and congregation will be supplied with 200 new song books, and reinforced by Prof. Evans, the blind singer.

FIRST WEEK CLOSED.

Successful Series of Protracted Meetings at the M. E. Church.

scarlet fever and 3 of diphtheria were reported.

Sanitary Officer Burgess buried 9 dogs and cats during the month, and served 13 notices to clean up.

The bills for the month were as follows: J. H. Burgess, $50.25; C. B. Ogden, $25; James Murphy, $125; J. M. Aten, $60; J. Simms, $72.40.

The Dog Question has been settled, and hereafter when a man wants a dog shot he will have to bear the expense of the burial. In the case of stray dogs the officer who kills them will first have to get an order from the mayor, and then the sanitary officer can collect from the city.

Some of the Teamsters are now hauling garbage for 10 cents a load, while others refuse to do it for less than 25 cents a load. As a result of the cut rates it is hard for people to get garbage hauled to the dump, as there are not enough cheap rate teamsters to supply the demand.

Max Schubert, city marshal of Salineville, was in the city yesterday on business.

ASK ASSISTANCE.

STATE EDUCATORS ON THE NORMAL SCHOOLS.

Supt. R. E. Rayman States Some of the Advantages to Be Gained.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman outlines the arguments advanced by state educators in favor of the bill now pending for the establishment of normal schools in Ohio, as follows:

No question before the general assembly is of greater importance than that of public education, and one of the very important issues now being urged by the educational legislative committee of Ohio is the old, old one for the establishment of state normal schools as part of the public school system of this state.

State normal schools have been established in every state in the Union, except Ohio, New Mexico and Arkansas. New York has 13; Pennsylvania, 12; Wisconsin, 7; Massachusetts, 6; West Virginia, 6; and all the other states from one to five.

Ohio should have normal schools because proper training is as necessary to teachers as to any other profession. Professionally trained teachers are demanded in all the great cities. Ohio teachers ought not to be compelled to go to other states for professional training. Ohio has to pay for teachers trained elsewhere as much more as would maintain a normal school in Ohio. Ohio's reputation in educational matters should be in keeping with the state's position in the Union. New Mexico and Arkansas are scarcely the class in which Ohio should be recorded. Normal schools would mean a higher standard for teachers all around. Not one state that has tried normal schools has abandoned the system. Hon. Lewis D. Bonebrake, state commissioner of common schools, has recommended that five normal schools be established in Ohio, and the state educators ask the parents of the 798,000 school children of the state to urge upon the legislature the carrying out of this recommendation.

DIED AT CHILDREN'S HOME.

Eight Year Old Boy From This City Died of Enteritis.

A letter received from M. M. Southworth, superintendent of the Fairmount children's home at Alliance, says: "One of our little wards died Friday morning at 6 o'clock of enteritis, a disease of the smaller intestines, followed by a pulmonary complication. The little fellow's name is Albert L. Barnes, aged 8 years, son of Albert and Mary Jane Barnes, formerly of East Liverpool. He has been an inmate of the home since the death of his mother, Nov. 1, 1894. The reason he had never been taken from the home was on account of his delicate condition." The funeral took place Saturday morning.

IT IS A LARGE JOB

Classifying the Pottery Lists
No Easy Task.

THE QUESTION NOT SETTLED

And It Will Probably Not be For Some Time—What Is Being Done In the Trenton Plants—Some Interesting Pottery Items.

The Crockery Journal this week says: "The one important question among the potters is the adjustment of the sales schedule to the present conditions. All admit the positive necessity of an advance, but differ as to the policy of making the increase sufficient to squarely meet the situation abstractly. It can hardly be denied that the root of the present difficulty lies in the present classification, and that no horizontal advance of any percentage on the present pottery schedule will alleviate fully the difficulty. For instance, adding a sufficient percentage horizontally to make jugs and toilet ware pay a reasonable profit would make prices on many other articles too high. It seems quite probable that a thorough reclassification of the sales schedule without any advance on a large number of articles would give the needed relief and modestly meet the requirements of the situation. As the American scale follows closely the English, the proposition to make an international classification might be carried out with assurance of success."

THE CHELSEA.

A Statement Going the Rounds
That a Pottery Firm
Wants It.

A proposition has been made by a pottery firm to buy the Chelsea plant and operate it, if the citizens of Cumberland will raise a bonus of seven thousand dollars. A public meeting was held at the court house on Tuesday evening. At this meeting a committee consisting of Judge John A. Campbell, G. L. Bambrick and G. M. Barford was appointed to confer with the parties and obtain their proposition in writing. This was done yesterday, and it is now proposed that an effort be made to raise the bonus. Another meeting will likely be held some night this week.

TRENTON.

The Potteries in That City Expect a Big Business This Year.

The wind up of 1899 was big, and the opening of 1900 gives indications that the business of the year will be greater than that of the greatest year ever known. New goods are being pushed as rapidly as possible, and in spite of the fact that there was so much business all the fall that there was a little delay in getting at the new patterns, they will be on as early as usual, strenuous efforts having been made to catch up.—Crockery Journal.

ANOTHER POTTERY.

East Palestine People Will Try To Raise a Bonus.

There is a very good prospect of getting another pottery for East Palestine. The executive and finance committees of the board of trade and a few others held a meeting a short time ago and discussed the probability of being able to raise $15,000 bonus for another pottery. W. S. George, of this city, has been conferred with, and it was found that he would build a pottery for a bonus of $15,000 and a suitable site. W. C. Chamberlain, as president of the board of trade, was chairman of the meeting, and upon motion a committee of five was appointed to devise ways and means of raising the bonus. The committee is now at work and will report in the near future. The pottery is to be a five kiln one and the plans and specifications are being drawn up and will be reported later.—East Palestine Reveille Echo.

NOTES OF THE PLANTS

And Other Items That Will Interest the Pottery Trade.

Wallace & Chetwynd are making some necessary improvements to double decorating kilns at their plant.

John Tracy, a well known employee of the Mercer pottery, Trenton, has been ill the past few days at his home on North Clinton avenue.

Dennis McDonigal, of Chambers street, has returned from a visit to East Liverpool, O.—Trenton Times.

When the pottery salesmen start out this month they will carry the finest lines of samples ever put out. The decorations surpass anything ever before attempted.

The sanitary combine—the Trenton Potteries' company—is trying to arrange a price agreement between the outside concerns.

The cold weather has hindered some of the plants this week.

Robert Garton has left Beaver Falls for Wellsville.

The large Smith Bros. pottery plant at Flemington, N. J., was totally destroyed by fire Thursday night. The plant has not been in operation for some time and was owned by the Bloomsbury National bank. The loss has not been estimated. The insurance had just expired.

The East Palestine Pottery company has a new toilet set to put on the market the first of the year which is a beauty and from an artistic point of view will be a great seller.

The Norris Bros., of Denver, are thinking of locating a pottery at Golden, Colo.

Brown, Knoblock, Scott and Gresham, traveling salesmen from this city, will go to Pittsburg this evening to visit a number of their fellow travelers at the Monongahela House.

There is a scarcity of jugmakers at the Diamond pottery.

All departments at the Sebring plant have not been started in full as yet.

Stella Eagan, of the Murphy pottery, who has been visiting relatives at Kensington, returned to the city yesterday.

Yesterday two crockery buyers spent the day in the city placing orders. They would not give their names or the houses which they represented.

The Diamond pottery is running full in every department.

The Thompson Pottery company today shipped a car of ware.

The biscuit kilnhands at the Goodwin pottery will resume work Monday morning.

A Golf Outrage.

The Earl of Wemyss was on a Fife golf course not long ago, accompanied by an old caddie. His lordship got his ball on one occasion so near the hole that to play it was, as it appeared to him, superfluous. So he simply tipped it in with the toe of his boot.

The caddie revolted instantaneously, threw down the clubs and looked horrified. When he found words to speak, it was to say, "Hang it, me lord, gowf's gowf!"

Basket Ball.

The high school basket ball team last evening defeated the middle weights by a score of 10 to 8.

Cutting Ice.

The street force are today cutting ice in the suburban districts of this city.

JOINT INSTALLATION

Of Grand Army, Relief Corps and Sons of Veterans.

SOLDIERS' DEATH RATE DOUBLED

During the Past Year Compared With 1890—Rate of One Death Every 15 Minutes In 1890—Addresses by D. J. Smith, N. A. Frederick, Squire Rose.

The joint installation of officers of General Lyon post, No. 44, G. A. R.; Women's Relief corps, No. 46, and General Garfield camp, No. 3, Sons of Veterans, was held at the post hall last night. N. A. Frederick was installing officer of the post; Mrs. M. E. Calhoun for the corps and O. C. Vodrey for the camp.

After the public installation refreshments were served. D. J. Smith was then called upon by Chairman Frederick and delivered a short address. Squire Rose and Mrs. R. L. Herbert also spoke. Before leaving Capt. John Myers asked Chairman Frederick to read the death roll of the veterans for the year ending July 1, 1899, as reported by Commissioner Evans, of the pension bureau. There were 34,345 deaths in the year, 2,862 a month, 95½ a day, four an hour or one every 15 minutes, double the rate of the year 1890.

DEATHS THIS MORNING.

Demise of Miss Eva R. Headley—George Warner Dead.

Eva R. Headley, aged 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Headley, died at the home of her parents, No. 185 Fifth street, at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Typhoid fever was the cause of death. Deceased had been ill for four weeks. The funeral services will be held at the house Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Rev. C. L. V. McKee, of Wellsville, officiating. Interment will be made in Spring Hill cemetery, Wellsville. Friends of the deceased can view the remains tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 8 o'clock.

George Werner, aged 40, died at 6:35 o'clock this morning at the residence of O. Harmon, on Sixth street, with whom he boarded, after a lingering illness. Peritonitis was the direct cause of death. Werner was born in Germany, and has been a resident of this place a number of years, being employed by Robert Hall. Since he became ill the county has been looking after him. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon, interment being made in the Catholic cemetery.

Fool and His Money.

It chanced that the miser and the spendthrift took ship together.

En voyage the spendthrift bought much wine and sat long at the gaming table.

"The fool and his money soon part," said the miser.

Presently a storm rose, and the ship foundered, and they were all cast into the water, and the miser, having his gold in a belt about his waist, sank to the bottom.

"The fool and his money," observed the spendthrift sadly, for he was a generous soul, "don't always part!"

After that the spendthrift swam to a raft, where he starved to death.—Detroit Journal.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. SATURDAY, JAN 6.

FOR PRESIDENT--Second Term.
WM. M'KINLEY,
of Ohio.

CONSUL MACRUM.

And now the statement is made quite prominent in the journals of the East that Consul Macrum is the bearer of papers of great and vital importance from Oom Paul to the government of the United States. We await developments.

A MUSICAL CONTEST.

The band contest to be held at Alliance on Washington's birthday in aid of the new public library at that place, will no doubt interest the members of East Liverpool's organization. The bands of this city rank high in musical circles and would make a creditable showing in such a contest.

ABSOLUTE THIEVERY.

Certain officials continue to take care of their friends and poor relations at the expense of the city. Work has been given out, without bids, at prices at least 40 per cent. greater than would have been the case had bids been taken upon it from the various city job offices. This is absolute thievery and simply shows that these officials have been derelict in their duty and exceeded their prerogatives in order to confer favors upon friends and needy relatives.

THE WISE ADVERTISER.

Said one of the best advertisers in the nation, a man who always carried the best of goods and advertised ONLY that which he HAD and would DO:

"Say, old man, in the name of common business sense, keep me BEFORE THE PEOPLE. If you can't say anything good about me, say something bad."

The meaning of this astute business man is condensed in the thought of good goods in hand, at bargain prices, and then let the people know the fact by the medium of constant and persistent advertising, day in and day out, in dull as well as in pushing times.

OUR BOYS.

And we should be proud to call them "Our Boys." We have reference to the officers and men doing gallant and heroic service in the Philippines. They face every peril and flinch not under any difficulties. They are heroes to a man. Say, readers of the NEWS REVIEW, if you or yours were but sharing the dangers and the difficulties connected with the march, the camp and the battle field now connected with the service in the Philippines, you would have just cause for pride, and fully as just cause to hate the cowards at home who are deliberately stabbing our gallant fellows in the back and aiding the foes of our government in every possible manner.

WESLEY-MOODY.

Augustine Birrell says in Scribner for December, referring to John Wesley, : "No single figure influenced so many minds, no simple voice touched so many hearts. No other man did such a life's work for England." Wesley was an untiring worker in the cause of God and humanity. WORKERS in God's vineyard are in demand in the minds and hearts of the masses in this great and greatly growing nation. Idlers, seekers after soft places and high salaries, in common with so called "higher critics," number God's harvest fields, and are surely earning the contempt and ridicule of the common people, the rank and file, the true bone and sinew of the nation at large; the element upon which, ONLY, can be built, under God's blessing, a safe and sure and stable government, "of the people, by the people and for the people." Pray God that we may have more Wesleys and more Moodys in this land of freedom.

HISTORICAL SERVICE

THE FEATURE AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

Robert Burford Read an Interesting Paper of Reminiscences.

At the M. P. church campmeeting last night the interest was largely reminiscent. Mr. Robert Burford read a carefully prepared paper on the history of the church, dating back to 1854-5 and 6, when the church was organized by the Rev. Edward H. Brindley, now deceased. He traced the lights and shadows of the church's history down from the beginning in Bradshaw's hall to the "White" church, to the present commodious structure, in which it was found that about 1,200 communicants had entered the doors of the church as members, and 300 probationers; and nearly 150 have died. Mr. Burford's paper is a valuable addition to the literature of the church.

Tonight (Saturday night) there will be a consecration service of all the societies of the church. Miss Lucy Moore will read a paper. Next week the chorus and congregation will be supplied with 200 new song books, and reinforced by Prof. Evans, the blind singer.

FIRST WEEK CLOSED.

Successful Series of Protracted Meetings at the M. E. Church.

The first week of the revivals at the First M. E. church closed last night. An interesting sermon was preached by Rev. Clark Crawford, from the theme, "Harvest is Past, Summer Ended." There were three conversions, making a total of 15 for the week. The revivals will be continued next week.

scarlet fever and 3 of diphtheria were reported.

Sanitary Officer Burgess buried 9 dogs and cats during the month, and served 13 notices to clean up.

The bills for the month were as follows: J. H. Burgess, $50.25; C. B. Ogden, $25; James Murphy, $125; J. M. Aten, $60; J. Simms, $72.40.

The Dog Question has been settled, and hereafter when a man wants a dog shot he will have to bear the expense of the burial. In the case of stray dogs the officer who kills them will first have to get an order from the mayor, and then the sanitary officer can collect from the city.

Some of the Teamsters are now hauling garbage for 10 cents a load, while others refuse to do it for less than 25 cents a load. As a result of the cut rates it is hard for people to get garbage hauled to the dump, as there are not enough cheap rate teamsters to supply the demand.

Max Schubert, city marshal of Salineville, was in the city yesterday on business.

ASK ASSISTANCE.

STATE EDUCATORS ON THE NORMAL SCHOOLS.

Supt. R. E. Rayman States Some of the Advantages to Be Gained.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman outlines the arguments advanced by state educators in favor of the bill now pending for the establishment of normal schools in Ohio, as follows:

No question before the general assembly is of greater importance than that of public education, and one of the very important issues now being urged by the educational legislative committee of Ohio is the old, old one for the establishment of state normal schools as part of the public school system of this state.

State normal schools have been established in every state in the Union, except Ohio, New Mexico and Arkansas. New York has 13; Pennsylvania, 12; Wisconsin, 7; Massachusetts, 6; West Virginia, 6; and all the other states from one to five.

Ohio should have normal schools because proper training is as necessary to teachers as to any other profession. Professionally trained teachers are demanded in all the great cities. Ohio teachers ought not to be compelled to go to other states for professional training. Ohio has to pay for teachers trained elsewhere as much more as would maintain a normal school in Ohio. Ohio's reputation in educational matters should be in keeping with the state's position in the Union. New Mexico and Arkansas are scarcely the class in which Ohio should be recorded. Normal schools would mean a higher standard for teachers all around. Not one state that has tried normal schools has abandoned the system. Hon. Lewis D. Bonebrake, state commissioner of common schools, has recommended that five normal schools be established in Ohio, and the state educators ask the parents of the 798,000 school children of the state to urge upon the legislature the carrying out of this recommendation.

DIED AT CHILDREN'S HOME.

Eight Year Old Boy From This City Died of Enteritis.

A letter received from M. M. Southworth, superintendent of the Fairmount children's home at Alliance, says: "One of our little wards died Friday morning at 6 o'clock of enteritis, a disease of the smaller intestines, followed by a pulmonary complication. The little fellow's name is Albert L. Barcus, aged 8 years, son of Albert and Mary Jane Barcus, formerly of East Liverpool. He has been an inmate of the home since the death of his mother, Nov. 1, 1894. The reason he had never been taken from the home was on account of his delicate condition." The funeral took place Saturday morning.

IT IS A LARGE JOB

Classifying the Pottery Lists
No Easy Task.

THE QUESTION NOT SETTLED

And It Will Probably Not be For Some Time—What Is Being Done In the Trenton Plants—Some Interesting Pottery Items.

The Crockery Journal this week says: "The one important question among the potters is the adjustment of the sales schedule to the present conditions. All admit the positive necessity of an advance, but differ as to the policy of making the increase sufficient to squarely meet the situation abstractly. It can hardly be denied that the root of the present difficulty lies in the present classification, and that no horizontal advance of any percentage on the present pottery schedule will alleviate fully the difficulty. For instance, adding a sufficient percentage horizontally to make jugs and toilet ware pay a reasonable profit would make prices on many other articles too high. It seems quite probable that a thorough reclassification of the sales schedule without any advance on a large number of articles would give the needed relief and modestly meet the requirements of the situation. As the American scale follows closely the English, the proposition to make an international classification might be carried out with assurance of success."

THE CHELSEA.

A Statement Going the Rounds
That a Pottery Firm
Wants It.

A proposition has been made by a pottery firm to buy the Chelsea plant and operate it, if the citizens of Cumberland will raise a bonus of seven thousand dollars. A public meeting was held at the court house on Tuesday evening. At this meeting a committee consisting of Judge John A. Campbell, G. L. Bambrick and G. M. Burford was appointed to confer with the parties and obtain their proposition in writing. This was done yesterday, and it is now proposed that an effort be made to raise the bonus. Another meeting will likely be held some night this week.

TRENTON.

The Potteries in That City Expect a Big Business This Year.

The wind up of 1899 was big, and the opening of 1900 gives indications that the business of the year will be greater than that of the greatest year ever known. New goods are being pushed as rapidly as possible, and in spite of the fact that there was so much business all the fall that there was a little delay in getting at the new patterns, they will be on as early as usual, strenuous efforts having been made to catch up.—Crockery Journal.

ANOTHER POTTERY.

East Palestine People Will Try To Raise a Bonus.

There is a very good prospect of getting another pottery for East Palestine. The executive and finance committees of the board of trade and a few others held a meeting a short time ago and discussed the probability of being able to raise $15,000 bonus for another pottery. W. S. George, of this city, has been conferred with, and it was found that he would build a pottery for a bonus of $15,000 and a suitable site. W. C. Chamberlain, as president of the board of trade, was chairman of the meeting, and upon motion a committee of five was appointed to devise ways and means of raising the bonus. The committee is now at work and will report in the near future. The pottery is to be a five kiln one and the plans and specifications are being drawn up and will be reported later.—East Palestine Reveille Echo.

NOTES OF THE PLANTS

And Other Items That Will Interest the Pottery Trade.

Wallace & Chetwynd are making some necessary improvements to double decorating kilns at their plant.

John Tracy, a well known employee of the Mercer pottery, Trenton, has been ill the past few days at his home on North Clinton avenue.

Dennis McDonigal, of Chambers street, has returned from a visit to East Liverpool, O.—Trenton Times.

When the pottery salesmen start out this month they will carry the finest lines of samples ever put out. The decorations surpass anything ever before attempted.

The sanitary combine—the Trenton Potteries' company—is trying to arrange a price agreement between the outside concerns.

The cold weather has hindered some of the plants this week.

Robert Garton has left Beaver Falls for Wellsville.

The large Smith Bros. pottery plant at Flemington, N. J., was totally destroyed by fire Thursday night. The plant has not been in operation for some time and was owned by the Bloomsbury National bank. The loss has not been estimated. The insurance had just expired.

The East Palestine Pottery company has a new toilet set to put on the market the first of the year which is a beauty and from an artistic point of view will be a great seller.

The Norris Bros., of Denver, are thinking of locating a pottery at Golden, Col.

Brown, Knoblock, Scott and Gresham, traveling salesmen from this city, will go to Pittsburg this evening to visit a number of their fellow travelers at the Monongahela House.

There is a scarcity of jugmakers at the Diamond pottery.

All departments at the Sebring plant have not been started in full as yet.

Stella Eagan, of the Murphy pottery, who has been visiting relatives at Kensington, returned to the city yesterday.

Yesterday two crockery buyers spent the day in the city placing orders. They would not give their names or the houses which they represented.

The Diamond pottery is running full in every department.

The Thompson Pottery company today shipped a car of ware.

The biscuit kiln hands at the Goodwin pottery will resume work Monday morning.

A Golf Outrage.

The Earl of Wemyss was on a Fife golf course not long ago, accompanied by an old caddie. His lordship got his ball on one occasion so near the hole that to play it was, as it appeared to him, superfluous. So he simply tipped it in with the toe of his boot.

The caddie revolted instantaneously, threw down the clubs and looked horrified. When he found words to speak, it was to say, "Hang it, me lord, gowf's gowf!"

Basket Ball.

The high school basket ball team last evening defeated the middle weights by a score of 10 to 8.

Fool and His Money.

It chanced that the miser and the spendthrift took ship together.

En voyage the spendthrift bought much wine and sat long at the gaming table.

"The fool and his money soon part," sighed the miser.

Presently a storm rose, and the ship founders, and they were all cast into the water, and the miser, having his gold in a belt about his waist, sank to the bottom.

"The fool and his money," observed the spendthrift sadly, for he was a generous soul, "don't always part."

After that the spendthrift swam to a raft, where he starved to death.—Detroit Journal.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 7—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic. Prayer that obtains.—Luke iii. 5-12, xviii. 25.

The topical references give us three illustrations of prayers that obtained—prayers among men, each one illustrating the increased willingness of God to answer the prayers of His people.

1. The prayer of the friend at midnight (Luke ii. 5-9). In this parable Jesus describes one friend coming to another at midnight and asking for bread for a friend who has come to visit him. At first he refuses and calls out, "Trouble me not," but the other persists, and at last his perseverance prevails. Because of his importunity his friend hears him and grants his request. Now, if man thus answers the prayers of his fellow man, how much more may we expect God to answer the earnest, persistent, continued prayers of His people! It is true, He may delay the answer for our good, but if we persevere the answer, if for our good, will finally come. If we ask, we shall receive; if we seek, we shall find; if we knock, it shall be opened unto us.

2. The prayer of children to parents. Christ's second illustration is that of a son asking bread of his father and receiving bread and fish, and not a stone or a serpent. Earthly parents hear and answer the prayers of their children. They would not think of mocking their cries for bread by giving them stones or their cries for fish by giving them serpents. God is our Heavenly Father, and if earthly parents give good gifts to their children, in answer to their prayers, much more may we expect God, our Heavenly Father, to give His Spirit to them that ask Him.

3. The widow and the unjust judge. In this case a widow presents a petition to an unjust judge, one who neither regards God nor man. At first he refused her petition, but she came again and again, and at last he granted it, lest by her continual coming she should weary him. If an unjust judge would thus hear and answer the prayer of a poor widow, with what more reason can we expect our God, who is just, and not only just, but merciful and loving, to answer our petitions.

4. These three parables all teach one great, important truth—namely, that God will answer prayer, that if we are earnest and persevering in our petitions God will not turn a deaf ear to our cries. Let us be encouraged, therefore, to spend much time in prayer. Our prayers will obtain. Let us specially pray at this time for the outpouring of God's blessing upon the churches and people of God. If the prayers of individuals for temporal blessings prevailed, how much more can we believe that our united prayers for a great spiritual blessing will prevail.

THE PRAYER MEETING.—Make this a special prayer and praise service. Have special prayers for special objects, sentence prayers, silent prayer and a "prayer chain," a number standing and praying one after the other. Interperse the praying with appropriate hymns and testimonies.

Bible Readings.—Gen. xxxii. 24-30; II Kings xix. 14-19, 35; I Sam. xii. 19-25; Ps. lv. 17; lxxv. 1, 2; Isa. lviii. 9; lxxv. 24; Math. vi. 6-15; vii. 7-11; John xiv. 14; xv. 16; Acts ii. 41-47; Eph. iii. 14-21; Jas. v. 16-20; I John iii. 22.

The Sanctified Ear.

How many bring a sanctified ear to the worship of God? They come to hear what? One wishes to hear what he terms good music. Music, after all, is only an attendant. God rises in the chariot, not in the rumbling of the wheels. Music is more than the harmony of sounds. It is a truth pre-cessional entering the brain. The average anthem is neither music nor sense. It teaches nothing. The advent angels not only sang well, but they sang something. The words lingered after the sound had vanished.—Presbyterian Journal.

A Child's Laugh.

Strike with hand of fire. O weird musician, thy harp strung with Apollo's golden hair; fill the vast cathedral aisles with symphonies sweet and dim. Deft toucher of the organ keys: blow bugler, blow until the silver notes do touch and kiss the moonlit waves and charm the lovers wandering midst the vine clad hills! But know your sweet strains are discord all compared with childhood's happy laugh—the laugh that fills the eyes with light and every heart with joy!—Robert Ingersoll

The Value of Adversity.

The air from the sea of affliction is extremely beneficial to invalid Christians. Continued prosperity, like a warm atmosphere, has a tendency to unbind the sinews and soften the bones but the cold winds of trouble make us sturdy hardy and well braced in every part. Unbroken success often leads to an undervaluing of mercies and forgetfulness of the giver, but the withdrawal of the sunshine leads us to look for the sun.—Spurgeon

Thrown Out of Court.

"In the good old days of Kentucky," says The Bar, "there was a court composed of three magistrates to try certain cases appealed from a single justice of the peace. The three magistrates were backwoodsmen. A case was being tried one day that was very important, and several hours of listening to the reading of depositions and the arguments of counsel, pro and con and pro and con again, had so nearly entangled the court in a labyrinth of perplexing questions of law and fact that they doubted their ability to blaze their way out. So they whispered to the leading lawyer at the bar, who was sitting by as a spectator, and asked him what he thought ought to be done with the case.

"I think it ought to be thrown out of court," was the prompt and emphatic reply.

"That settled it."

"Mr. Clerk," said the chief magistrate, "pass up their papers."

The papers, which made quite a large bundle, were handed the chief magistrate.

"Now, Mr. Sheriff," said he deliberately, "open that window."

"The sheriff opened the window and the case was thrown out of court.

"The feud that followed lasted for 15 years."

What It Might Have Cost.

In a certain town in Vermont, said the Boston drummer as he chewed away at a pepsi tablet, I picked up a wallet containing $500 in cash. In it were papers bearing the owner's name and he proved to be the mayor of the town. I at once hunted him up and handed over his lost cash, and as he received it he looked me over and scratched the back of his head and said:

"I shall reward you, of course. How much do you think you ought to have?"

"Nothing whatever, sir. I am glad to restore your property."

"But you expect something?"

"No, sir."

"Didn't look for me to give you a cent?"

"Not a red."

"It don't seem possible," he went on as he looked me over again, "but I'll have to take you at your word. Do you know what it might have cost me, sir, had any one else found this wallet?"

"I can't say, of course."

"I'd have had to hand over at least 10 cents, sir, and he might have struck for 15 or 25."—Ohio State Journal.

A Close Estimate.

Speaking about close estimates, General John M. Wilson, chief of engineers, made one some time ago. Congress called upon him to make an estimate of the cost of an addition to the government printing office. As it was near the close of the session and congress was hurriedly getting through its work, little time was given General Wilson to consider the matter, but he submitted his estimate, and the appropriation was made accordingly. He estimated that the proposed building, according to the plans and specifications which had been drawn, would cost $121,121.90. The building was completed, and there was $9.16 surplus covered back into the treasury. General Wilson was put in charge of this work, and he took a great deal of interest in it. He always gave credit, however, to Lieutenant Sewell of the engineer corps, who had the immediate supervision of the work, for the care with which the building was erected and the fact that the cost did not overrun the estimate and appropriation.—Washington Cor. Portland Oregonian.

Books.

When I consider what some books have done for the world and what they are doing, how they keep up our hope, awaken new courage and faith, soothe pain, give an ideal life to those whose homes are hard and cold, bind together distant ages and foreign lands, create new worlds of beauty, bring down truths from heaven, I give eternal blessings for this gift.—James Freeman Clarke

CLOTHES AND THE MAN.

The Difference Being Well Dressed Made to a Cabinet Official.

"Yes, the clothes a man wears make a great deal of difference in this world especially in official life," remarked the private secretary of a cabinet official, who is compelled to see many people and to hold many more people at bay.

"I was especially struck with the importance of clothing some time ago," continued the official, "when the assistant secretary was absent and it was my duty to stave off the callers off the secretary. I do that often, but when the assistant secretaries are here they help a great deal.

"Well, I noticed on the occasion I referred to that I had no trouble in keeping people away when I wore my Prince Albert and looked like the real thing. When I told them that the secretary was too busy to see callers, they thought I owned the whole place and walked away without remonstrance or without saying that their business was very important and they were sure they would be seen if I would just take their names to the secretary.

"When I wore an average looking business suit, which might look just a little bit shabby, the callers didn't pay much attention to what I said. It was more difficult than you can imagine to get them to go away. They would find all kinds of excuses to remain and to get me to present their names to the secretary. The difference was so appreciable as to be noticed by others in the room. I found that it paid me to go well dressed on all occasions and that I was much more useful to my executive head."—Washington Star.

Coined Words.

Coined words! I have made a little study of them myself, always with disappointing results. I always run across them, after discovering them, somewhere about 100 years before the birth of the inventor. I once coined a name, away back in 1876, for one of my so called humorous characters—Bilderback. I put the Bilderback family in focus print for several years.

One night, about 1887, I lectured in Salem, N. J., and told one of my Bilderback stories. The audience was convulsed with more mirth than the story called for. After the lecture I was introduced to about a dozen Bilderbicks, who enjoyed my story more than any one else.—Robert J. Burdette in Chautauquan.

Blaine and Thurman.

The senate has always been controlled by lawyers, who are the aristocratic class in the United States, and Blaine was at a disadvantage because he did not belong to the profession.

The law lords were disposed to disparage and flout him, but he was disrespectful to the verge of irreverence.

"Does the senator from Maine think I am an idiot?" roared Thurman, in reply to an interrogatory. Blaine put to him one day in the Pacific railroad debate.

"Well," bellowed Blaine, "that depends entirely on the answer you make to my question!"—Saturday Evening Post.

His "Dear Old Jim."

"Corbett is my friend and benefactor," says Mr. Jeffries. "I was once his sparring partner, and he treated me as a gentleman. Hence I have gladly agreed to fight him as a return for favors. I am bound by all the ties of friendship and gratitude to give him a chance to fight me." Was there ever such a touching instance of devotion? Mr. Jeffries will reward his old patron and benefactor by beating him into pulp and knocking his head off. One can fancy him saying, as he puts his terrible right into his friend's ribs. "Dear old Jim!"—Kansas City Star.

The Billing and Cooing.

Uncle George—You do not appear to think it necessary to spend so much time at home as you did when you were first married. I suppose the billing and cooing are all over now.

Harry—There doesn't seem to be much of a let up in the billing, and as for the cooing, I am dreadfully afraid of it. It is sure to mean a new hat or a new gown or a new something.—Boston Transcript.

Skins.

Each average human being has about 15,000 square feet of skin to look after and nearly 3,000,000 oil and sweat glands. The outer layer of skin is constantly wearing off and must be constantly removed to allow the new skin beneath to form fresh, white and beautiful.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 7. "A Race For Life" — Text, PHIL. III, 7-15; Heb. XII, 1, 2.

"I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

In these days, when so much thought is given to athletics, the references of Paul to the ancient Greek games and comparison of the Christian life to their struggles should be well understood and thoroughly appreciated. There are force and beauty and deep significance in the use he makes of their various features.

"Pressing forward." The runner in the games needed to give all his attention to the goal and the course which lay before him. What other runners were doing must not detain him. The applause or hisses of spectators must not distract him. Fatigue must not overcome. Nothing must be allowed to distract or divert attention or cause him to relax effort. On, on, on, at highest speed, for the mark where the prize rested!

"Laying aside" all weight was one of the necessary preparations for the runner. He must have muscles free and limbs unumbered. No one can make much progress or get up much speed in the Christian life if entangled with the obligations of worldly social life and customs and cumbered with its alliances. "Lay aside every weight and run with patience." There are rules for Christian conduct, and if one gets the prize he must needs keep them. No one ever yet made a success of loving the world and serving Christ at the same time. Each one requires all the time and care. One excludes the other.

"Looking unto Jesus" is the sure way of running successfully. Study Him. Keep the eyes and mind on Him. See how He did and do likewise. We need ever to look to Him also for encouragement on the course, for direction and commands. He once ran and won. We now run and can win.

He endured to gain the prize. It is worth all our effort. We need to fear lest we, by carelessness or relaxing our exertions or through pride and forgetfulness of Him, become castaways and driven from the track. Make this year tell for Jesus. Get somewhere. Make some gain. Watch your chances and make the next base. If we are to score, we must run. Better to slide for the plate than be put out on the base without trying for it.

Look Well to the Spokes.

A cracked or loose spoke is dangerous. It may "dish" the whole wheel, upset the wagon, spill the load, ruin the profits and endanger life. No wheel is stronger than its weakest spoke. As in the case of the notable "Deacon's One Hose Shay,"

Tis mighty plain
The weakest part must stan the strain.
And the only way, as I maintain, is jest
To make that part as strong as the rest.

Do the members sustain the church prayer meeting? No other service can replace this. It is not enough to have a League devotional meeting. Be loyal to all church services. There is no substitute for them. Keep the mercy and help work going. Hunt up the poor and sick. Visit, send flowers, fruit, jellies, delicacies and comforts. Keep your literary work alive. Lectures, readings, debates, discussions and study hours help. Have live sociables. Give systematically to the church funds, as well as pay your League dues. Make every spoke strong. No bicyclist can afford to neglect a broken spoke lest he have to come home afoot and bring his wheel on his back. Don't make the church carry a broken down League on its back. Put your wheel in good condition, lubricate properly and pedal steadily. Don't gear up too high, but take the up grades firmly and not too fast.

A Busy Man and His Bible.

There are few persons who are more busy than was the late George Muller of Bristol, England. He was pastor of a church of 1,200 members and had charge of five immense orphanages and a publishing house issuing millions of pages of books and tracts. His correspondence amounted to 30,000 letters per year in all European languages, and most of them had his personal attention. For 50 years he never saw a day which did not bring more work than could be done in its hours.

In the beginning of his ministry he neglected to read the Bible regularly and was a babe in knowledge and grace. He then saw that the Holy Spirit is the instructor and the Bible is the medium by which He teaches. He began to read the book in course, both Old and New Testaments. He said: "I

He Would Know More.
An exceedingly well dressed woman sat in an elevated railway car the other day, and opposite her was an elderly man. The woman got up to leave the car, and in the corner of the seat where she had been sitting the man spied a piece of black net. Jumping for it, he called out:

"Madam, you have left your veil!"

As she took no notice of him he dashed down the aisle after her, and, touching her on the elbow again, said:

"Madam, you have left your veil," at the same time holding it up in full view of all.

It was a frowsy, frayed, torn piece of black cotton net.

"It is not mine, sir!" she snapped out, giving him a withering look, and the obliging old man shrank back as if he had been jabbed with a hatpin, while the passengers grinned.

"Why was she so mad about it?" he asked in a dazed way as he laid the homely little rag on the window sill.

"I guess you never paid for a woman's finery," said another man.

"That's so," said the withered one in a hopeless tone. "I am a bachelor. Perhaps I'd know more if I'd married."

"You would that," said the other feelingly.—New York Tribune.

No Room at the Inn.

No room in Bethlehem's crowded inn
For the infant Christ to lie,
Though heralded by shining ones,
Who greeted Him from the sky;

No home threw open its friendly doors
To welcome a Saviour born,

Though heaven rejoiced and angels sang
Their praise in the early morn.

No room for the Christ who came to save
A world enshrouded in sin;

No room how it echoes down the years—
For the Son of God within;

No room for Him who brought to man,
Through the Father's wondrous love,

The hope of a changeless better life

With Him in a home above.

O blessed Christ, Thy mercy and grace
Are as limitless as the sea!

Let Thy spirit incline us now to say
There is room in my heart for Thee!

Make room for Jesus! to all we cry,

His friendship is constant and true,

And when He gathers His people home

He will have a welcome for you.

Nast, Conkling and Curtis.

It is to be suspected that some of Tom Nast's Wittiest work with his marvelous pencil was "printed, not published"—was intended simply to gratify his friends and never met the eyes of the general public. Not long ago, in looking over the album of a lady who for years was a social leader at Washington, I came across a contribution of Nast's which was as effective in its way as any of the cartoons which have made his name famous.

He wanted to impress upon the lady that Washington life had been too much for him and did so by drawing a capital full length picture of himself as he appeared walking along the avenue. What gave the picture point and rendered it irresistible was the fact that the back of his head was where his face ought to be—in other words, Washington had turned his head.

I suppose the politicians still recall Roscoe Conkling's famous allusion to the great cartoonist in his Rochester speech "dedicated" to George William Curtis. Mr. Curtis at the time was the editor of Harper's Weekly, a position which he had held for many years. In the course of his philippic Mr. Conkling took occasion to refer to The Weekly, and, although Mr. Curtis sat listening to him, he described it simply as "the paper made famous by the pencil of Nast."—New York Mail and Express.

Tragedies of the Grand Canyon.

Tragic stories are told of men who have lost their lives in the search for precious metals which may be hidden or uncovered, says Harriet Monroe in The Atlantic. The great primeval flood cut its broad V through all the strata of rock, with all their veins of metallic ore, down to the earliest shapeless mass, leaving in its wake the terraced temples and towers which seem to have been planned by some architect of divinest genius to guard their inaccessible treasures till the end of time. And the river, rising far to the north among mountains rich in mineral, has been washing for ages the sands away and depositing thus gold and silver and lead in the still crevices of the inaccessible chasm.

Here the earth laughs at her human master and bids him find her wealth if he dare and bear it away if he can. A young Californian who accepted the challenge and set forth upon the turbid water to sift its sands for gold never emerged with his hapless men to tell the story of his search. Only near the brink of the cleft are a few miners burrowing for copper and sending their ore up to the rim on the backs of hardy burros, as who should prick the mountain with a pin or measure the ocean with a cup.

The Master.

When earth's last picture is painted,
And the tubes are twisted and dried,
When the oldest colors have faded,
And the youngest critic has died,
We shall rest, and, faith, we shall need it,
Lie down for an eon or two,
Till the Master of all good workmen
Shall set us to work anew.

And only the Master shall praise us,
And only the Master shall blame,
And no one shall work for money,
And no one shall work for fame,
But each for the joy of the working,
And each in his separate star,
Shall draw the thing as he sees it,
For the God of things as they are.

Resting the Muscles.

When a man is tired, he stretches his arms and legs and yawns. Birds and animals, so far as possible, follow his example.

Birds spread their feathers and also yawn, or gape. Fowls often do this. Fish yawn; they open their mouths slowly until they are round, the bones of the head seem to loosen, and the gills open.

Dogs are inveterate yawners and stretchers, but seldom sneeze unless they have a cold. Cats are always stretching their bodies, legs and claws, as every one knows who has a cat for a pet.

Horses stretch violently when and after indulging in a roll, but not, as a rule, on all fours.

A stag when stretching sticks out his head, stretches his fore feet out and hollows his back and neck as though trying to creep under a bar.

Most ruminant animals stretch when they rise up after lying down. Deer do it regularly; so do cows. This fact is so well known that if a cow, when arising from lying down, does not stretch herself it is a sign she is ill.

The reason for this is plain—the stretch moves every muscle of the body, and if there be any injury anywhere it hurts.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

In Bavaria each family on Easter Sunday brings to the churchwardene a walnut branch, which, after being partially burned, is carried home to be laid on the hearth during tempests as a protection against lightning.

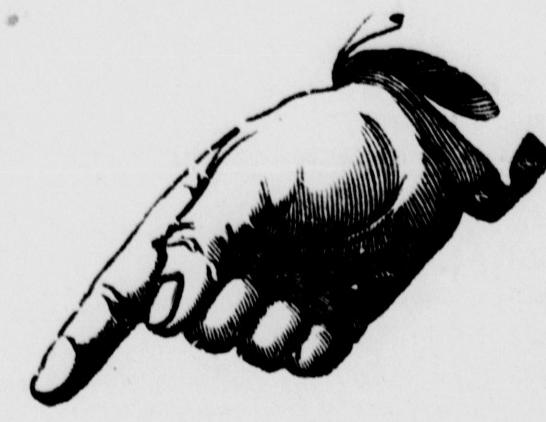

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE

To Disprove Facts—It Is Decidedly Easy to Verify East Liverpool Opinion.

Nothing by way of an introduction can be added to the experiences and opinions given below, which could increase their value. East Liverpool people can safely be left to draw their own conclusions based on such convincing proof as this citizen offers. What is there lacking in evidence like this to satisfy a dyed in the wool doubting Thomas? Mr. Wm. Anderson, of 305 Lisbon street, says: "During the civil war I enlisted and served three years in the Forty-second Ohio infantry. From the exposure during the war I attribute the severe aching and weakness in the loins and muscular rheumatism of recent years which all seemed to center in my kidneys. In the morning when first getting up I was very dizzy until I had moved around for a time and my nervous system became affected causing a fluttering and fullness around the heart. Seeing an advertisement in the paper I got Doan's kidney pills at W. & W. pharmacy and took them. A few doses gave me relief. The improvement was gradual and continued as the medicine got more thoroughly into my system. I firmly believe that Doan's kidney pills will in every case as they did in mine, prove the justness of the claims made for them."

FAILURES OF LAST YEAR.

Dues, Review Reported Over 9,000, With Liabilities of Over $122,000,000.

Condition of Trade.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade issued today said in part:

Failures in 1890 were 9,303 in number, with liabilities of $23,326,630. The last days of the year added a few to the number and some millions to the known liabilities of firms and banks which failed close to them, so that commercial defaults reached $91,510,839, of which $59,921,604 were in manufacturing, $8,9,471 in trading and $11,162,944 in brokerage, promoting and other commercial labors.

Most people in business have been so occupied with the accounts and the settlements of the past year that little new business has yet been done. No new tendency in manufacture or in trading appears and less change than was anticipated in money markets.

There is nothing unusual in the business of the great industries but an extensive revision of prices may disappoint extreme expectations. Two ways of stimulating business are adopted. The Iron Age notices "transactions of magnitude in foundry iron, which indicate that some sellers are willing to make concessions to secure the trade of good customers."

But the Steel and Wire company has advanced prices of wire nails, barbed and smooth wire 25 cents. Bessemer pig is not high or than it was six weeks ago and steel plates have declined from $10 to $25 at Philadelphia, bars at Pittsburgh from $2 to $25 and sheets from $15 to $20 while the structural and rail producers have held but refused to advance their prices. Some new business is reported, but not enough as yet to indicate the tendency. In tin, after a fall from 35 to 35 cents, the prices rise to 2.25 with London, and in copper 16.12 cents is quoted instead of 13.42 cents a month ago.

Woolen goods are much lower with respect to wool than a year ago, and some further advance has been expected. Wool is strongly held, though full pieces asked a month ago cannot be obtained.

Wheat still moves very sluggishly with small change in prices.

The price is practically unchanged as also for corn.

Fatuures for the week have been 273 in the United States, against 243 last year, and 25 in Canada, against 4 last year.

OLD LEGISLATORS MET.

Reunion of the Members of the Pennsylvania Body of 1875-76 Held at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6.—The first reunion of the legislature of 1875-76 was held in the senate chamber, 25 years from the date of its first meeting. The meeting was called to order by ex-Auditor General Amos H. Mylin of Lancaster. The role of those present was prepared with such data as could be obtained concerning absent and deceased members. Then followed an address of welcome by Governor Stone, to which M. E. Embick of Boiling Springs, formerly a member of the house from Franklin county, responded.

Addresses were also made by Thomas V. Cooper of Media and Judge Yerkes of Doylestown, representing the senate, and Congressman William H. Graham of Allegheny, W. W. Brown, auditor of the war department, ex-Speaker John E. Faunes, receiver of taxes, William J. Roney and William Vodges of Philadelphia, representing the house. A session was also held last evening, at which there were reminiscences and addresses by members of the association and a permanent organization was effected.

At the evening session a permanent organization was effected by the election of General Mylin as president, M. A. Embick secretary and George W. Hall treasurer. The association will meet again in this city on Jan. 5, 1901.

EPIDEMIC IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Manila Papers Describe One as Raging In Some Towns.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 6.—Manila papers said that an epidemic like plague was threatening Manila. The Manila Times stated that "it has been learned from various authentic sources that in many of our closely settled neighboring towns a serious epidemic bordering on plague is raging. The towns principally affected are Guadalupe, Mandala, Pineda and Malabon, besides a number of others. The case is said to be due to the eating the flesh from animals which have died from disease. Whatever the cause, there is little doubt that a species of plague exists in which most cases prove fatal."

It is said that the disease carries off its victims within 38 hours from its attack, and in the country towns medical aid or supplies are not to be had readily and then only in a limited way. Not only this, but burial of the corpses of those who have died from this disease is carelessly conducted and absolutely no precautions are taken. Natives do not understand the care which should be taken, but rely too much on their faith and superstition.

It was decided, at the instance of the Russian minister of finance, to dispatch a sanitary corps of doctors and sisters of mercy to Manchuria to combat the plague, which has broken out among the Chinese laborers on the Manchurian railway.

HAD BARRELS OF POISON.

Molineux's Secretary Said They Were In the Accused Man's Laboratory—Other Testimony.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—In the Molineux trial one of the witnesses was Frank S. Hunt, a Newark (N. J.) tailor, who made the suit of clothes for Molineux, who testified that the chest measurement of the defendant was 37 inches and that his waist measurement was 32 inches. The evidence is considered significant because of the fact that these measurements indirectly connect Molineux with the writing on the diagnosis blank furnished by the Marston Kennedy company, which was signed "H. C. Barnet."

One of the most interesting witnesses of the day was William W. Scheffler, a manufacturer of cosmetics. He identified the letter sent by Molineux to Mrs. Scheffler, informing her that he was to be married next day, that the marriage was sudden, that it was quite a romance in fact.

One of the most important witnesses was Charles D. Allan, Molineux's private secretary. It was Allan who signed letters for Molineux per "C. D. A." He had studied chemistry and had served in the laboratory of Molineux. Asked if there were many poisons in the laboratory he replied, "yes, barrels of them." Allan identified a letter which he wrote to the "Studio Publishing Company," 1620 Broadway, New York city, signed "Roland B. Molineux, per C. D. A." as one that he wrote personally. He claimed that Molineux was looking for the names of consumers of dry colors. No. 1620 Broadway is the address of the Koch letter box agency, and it is claimed that it was from this letter that Koch learned the address of Molineux and sent the defendant a circular offering to lease a private letter box—an offer which it is claimed Molineux afterward accepted. The witness would not swear, however, that Molineux ever saw the letter to the Studio Publishing company, but he did testify that he saw a copy of the magazine sent for on the desk of Molineux subsequent to the opening up of the correspondence.

Herbert K. Twitchell, loan clerk of the Chase National bank and a practical handwriting expert, in response to questions, testified that in his opinion the address on the poison package was written by Molineux. David C. Decker, paying teller of the Union Square bank, entertained similar opinions. Paying Teller Sayers of the Shoe and Leather National bank, was on cross-examination, which, however, failed to shake his belief in the guilt of Molineux.

Monnett in Report Said Standard Owed It—Recommended New Legislation and Laws Amended.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 6.—The report of Attorney General Monnett, filed with the governor, was interesting because of its reference to the anti-trust litigation prosecuted by the department. Referring to the decision of the supreme court in the suits against the insurance combinations, the attorney general recommends that the laws of the state be amended so as to make it illegal for insurance agents as well as companies to make such pools.

In regard to the alleged discriminations in freight rates, he recommends the enactment of what is known as the "commodity rate statute," now in operation in Illinois.

The failure of the supreme court to consider his alleged bribery information against officers of the Standard Oil company because it did not connect the officers of the defendant company with the alleged bribery offers to the attorney general is recited and the suggestion is made that there ought to be amendments to the laws of the state on contempt, which would reach the agents and representatives of corporations that attempt to control the course of litigation against them by the corrupt use of money.

He also suggests legislation against advertising in newspapers, which is likely to have influence on pending legislation.

The attorney general claimed there was due from the Manhattan Oil company, connected with the Standard Oil company, the sum of $300,000 for oil taken from land owned by the state of Ohio.

RESLEY IN ANOTHER SHOOTING.

Murderer of Clary Shot B. & O. Superintendent G. Howey at Cumberland.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 6.—John M. Resley, 60 years old, a clerk, twice shot Charles W. Galloway, superintendent of the middle division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, in the latter's office, and walking to the court, gave himself up. An inventory of the cars in the yard, made up by Resley and claimed to be incorrect by the superintendent, caused the trouble. Hot words were followed by blows and then three shots were fired. Resley claimed that Galloway drew his gun first, but friends of the latter denied this. One of the shots shattered Galloway's elbow, another wounded him in the breast, while the third went wide of its mark.

Resley in October, 1873, shot and killed Lloyd Clary, editor and proprietor of The Daily Times, because of an alleged insulting editorial directed at Resley's father. Resley was acquitted on the ground of self defense.

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 16, via Victoria, B. C., Jan. 6.—The bill for the regulation of religious organizations excites comment because of its absolute fairness and impartiality.
